

Equiduct Product Licence Agreement

Schedule A – The Equiduct Products

Equiduct Central Limit Order Book, Equiduct CLOB, Level 2, (formerly HybridBook):

This is a real-time data feed relating to the Equiduct central limit order book. Data includes:

- a) Level 2 book depth (market-by-order)
- b) Time & Sales (Post-trade data, may be licensed standalone)

CLOB Information may be distributed by data vendors as Equiduct Information for purposes of use and redistribution in accordance with this Agreement.

ALP Orders, ALP, Level 2:

This is a real-time data feed which displays Apex Liquidity Provision (ALP) orders, which are addressable by Apex orders only. This data feed provides pre-trade transparency for ALP orders specifically.

ALP Orders Information may be distributed by data vendors as Equiduct Information for purposes of use and redistribution in accordance with this Agreement.

The ALP Orders data product consists of pre-trade data only, hence there is no option for standalone Last Sale data (post-trade data).

Market by Limit, MbL, Level 2:

MbL is a real-time market depth feed covering Equiduct instruments created by Equiduct from the consolidation of applicable bid and offer prices from relevant markets including Equiduct. The aggregated data feed includes:

- a) Level 2 book depth – aggregated quantities at limit prices including ALP Order liquidity
- b) Time & Sales with volume aggregated over a sample period and trade prices volume weighted over that period (Last Sale, may be licensed standalone)

The MbL data product provides pre-trade transparency for the Equiduct VBBO trading services in more granular detail than the VBBO.

MbL Information may be distributed by data vendors as Equiduct Information for purposes of use and redistribution in accordance with this Agreement.

Volume Weighted Best Bid and Offer, VBBO, Level 1:

VBBO is a real-time data feed providing, for any security traded in Equiduct's VBBO trading services, the Volume Weighted Best Bid and Offer for: Retail Market Size (RMS) (~7,500€), Standard Market Size (SMS, where defined by ESMA), Max Apex Size (PEX) and Max Zenith Size (SVB). The VBBO is calculated on the basis of a virtual order book formed from consolidated visible order book depth from relevant markets and includes ALP Orders. The VBBO datafeed provides pre-trade transparency for the VBBO trading services.

VBBO Information may be distributed by data vendors as Equiduct Information for purposes of use and redistribution in accordance with this Agreement.

The VBBO data product consists of pre-trade data only, hence there is no option for standalone Last Sale data.

Client-Specific Market Data Feed, Level 1:

The Client-Specific Market Data Feed is a real-time Level 1 pre-trade transparency data feed that provides market participants with a view of the liquidity available specifically to them at the European Best Bid and Offer (EBBO).

As the feed is customised to an individual market participant, the Client-Specific Market Data Feed is available only to direct trading members, identified DEA clients of direct trading members, and where applicable to ISVs acting on behalf of such firms.

VBBO, Equiduct CLOB, MbL, and ALP Orders feeds are available in ITCH format from Equiduct and via a variety of Market Data Vendors.

The Client-Specific Market Data feed is available in ITCH format directly from Equiduct.

Technical Specifications for Equiduct's ITCHMD feed are available from the Equiduct website: <https://www.equiduct.com/sites/default/files/documents/Equiduct-ITCHMD-Specification.pdf> or on request from marketdata@equiduct.com.

Equiduct Product Licence Agreement

Schedule B – Price List

For all data products and services provided by Equiduct, clients will be subject to cumulative charges based on the specific use case(s) of the data. Each use case, such as non-display usage, redistribution, or the creation of derived products, will incur a separate charge as outlined in this schedule. If a client engages in multiple use cases, whether for internal applications, external redistribution, or product development, separate fees will apply for each distinct use case.

“Real Time” data refers to the continuous and instantaneous delivery of market data, including bid and ask prices, and may include trade volumes, as other relevant trading information, generated and transmitted without delay.

“Delayed” data refers to market data that is distributed with a time lag of 15 minutes after the original transmission of real time data.

“Last Sale” refers to real time only data relating to post-trade information (also referred to as "time and sales") including trade prices, trade volume and associated timestamps. This data provides transparency for completed transactions.

- 3) Where Börse Berlin AG is satisfied that the use by Licensee's Group and Customers of otherwise Fee Liable Information is primarily for the purposes of trading via the Equiduct platform (evidenced by the significance of the volume of trading activity in each preceding quarter from the Licensee's Group), Licensee may elect to pay a capped fee of €20,000 per month in respect of the Information Access Fees, in which case article 4.1 of Schedule C shall apply.
- 4) Prior permission of Börse Berlin AG is required for the right to use or allow the use of any Information as the basis for creating any Derived Data, calculating Indices, or pricing of any Financial Products (including CFDs and OTC-traded products).

- 8) Enterprise License fees cover all use by Licensee and Licensee's Group. Per Site fees cover Non-Display Use by Licensee and Licensee's Group at each individual Site (see 12 and 13 below). If Information is received in one location and then redistributed to other individual Sites where active users or systems are located, that is a multi-Site deployment, and each location will need to be named on relevant licenses. Similarly, if Information is received from multiple Licenced Vendors, that is a multi-Site deployment, and each vendor will need to be named on relevant licenses.
- 13) Disaster recovery sites which are permissioned for access to Information but not routinely in receipt of Information (also known as "cold" backup sites) are charged at 50% of the per-Site/per-vendor fee.

- 14) Clients subscribed to any Distribution Licence and paying for the Right to store and use Exchange Proprietary Historical Information may store and use Historical Information generated during their active subscription period solely to support the primary use case for which the real-time license was granted. Any other usage of Historical Information, including but not limited to redistribution, creation of derived products, or commercial use, must be explicitly consulted with and pre-approved by Equiduct.
- 15) Data vendors must follow the guidelines outlined in the Equiduct Vendor Approval Request document when requesting approval for any client to receive Equiduct market data or when requesting changes related to Equiduct products on behalf of their clients.
